

Sherri Stephanson, ACC, M.Ed., Cert.ConRes.

Sherri's company, Aldebaran Coaching and Consulting provides customized individual, group and workplace coaching and training, as well as human resource consulting.

Her experience includes 32 years in pre-K-12 education working as a classroom teacher, principal and superintendent. She has extensive experience in leadership development, mentorship and coaching, having worked in a school division that embedded coaching into its staff supervision program. Sherri is highly skilled in the principles of adult learning and has facilitated workshops and seminars for leaders that cover the range of services offered. Along with personal leadership coaching, Sherri is a facilitator of coach training for teams of leaders using EXPEDITION Coaching™. She is also a facilitator of Personal Excellence Power Circle Groups.

Sherri is a member of the International Coaching Federation, Saskatchewan Charter Chapter and an Associate Certified Coach. She has a B. Ed and M. Ed from the University of Saskatchewan, and a Certificate in Conflict Resolution from the Justice Institute of British Columbia. As a sessional lecturer at the University of Regina, she enjoys teaching classes in the area of Educational Leadership. She is also certified in EQi-2.0 and EQ360, an emotional intelligence assessment.